INTA LEORA

VISUAL CODES FOR INNER REALITIES

Inta Leora is a visionary Latvian artist based in Spain, whose work transcends the visual surface to explore the energetic and symbolic undercurrents of existence. With a background in architecture and spatial planning, she developed a refined ability to think in structures, patterns, and unseen connections. This training now flows into her art, where she seeks to map not only physical forms but also the invisible forces between them—emotions, thoughts, memories, and subtle vibrations.

At the heart of Inta's digital artworks lies a deeply intuitive process. Every piece begins as a direct hand-drawn gesture, created using a digital pen and tablet, layer by layer—without generative algorithms or automation. These works are not AI-generated; they are born through moments of focused presence and a quiet dialogue between the artist's inner world and the symbolic language that emerges from it. The digital medium becomes an extension of her hand, chosen for its immediacy, clarity, and ability to preserve the energetic precision of the moment.

Her limited edition prints are more than visual compositions—they are visual spells, contemplative spaces encoded with intention. Inta believes that when an inner energy is drawn into symbolic form, it gains shape and resonance in the outer world. Through precise linework and carefully chosen palettes, she captures fragments of subconscious landscapes—sometimes surfacing during meditative drawing, sometimes appearing unexpectedly at dawn. Rather than reflecting on the visible world, Inta searches for portals into something yet to be fully known. Her art is a form of quiet resistance to the chaos of the moment—an attempt to find alignment, coherence, and direction toward something new. Each print in this collection is a crystallized trace of that search, offered to those who wish to pause, feel, and perhaps remember something they never quite forgot.

A CURATED SELECTION OF FINE ART PRINTS EXPLORING INNER LANDSCAPES, SYMBOLIC FORM, AND SENSORY COLOR.

EACH PIECE IS HAND-DRAWN AND PRINTED ON ARCHIVAL PAPER—
CREATED TO RESONATE, REFLECT, AND INSPIRE.

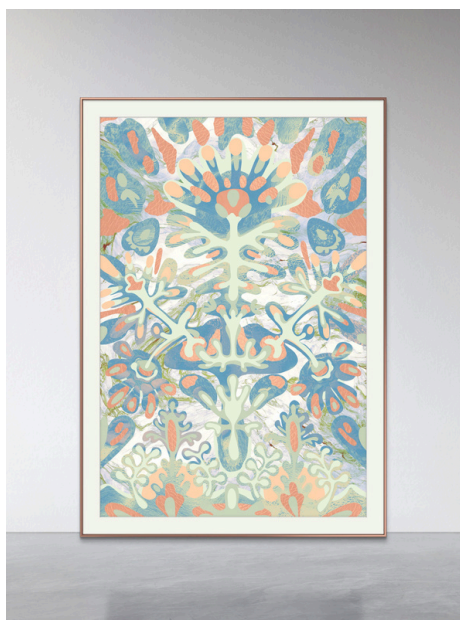

THE BEANSTALK WAY

BY INTA LEORA

"The Beanstalk Way" is a visual poem—an emblem of inner growth and spiritual ascent. Inspired by the ancient symbolism of the beanstalk as a bridge between earth and sky, this work evokes the journey of daring to reach beyond the visible, to trust in the silent pull of transformation.

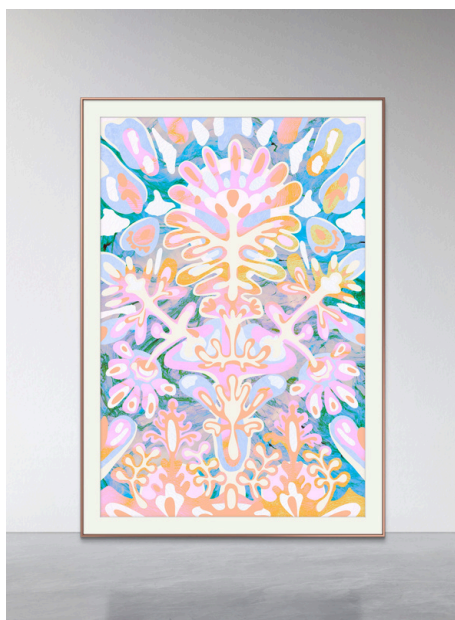

Grounded in roots yet reaching ever upward, The Beanstalk Way mirrors the human experience of expansion: a path of unfolding, of seeking, of reclaiming one's authentic direction. Each form is meticulously hand-drawn using digital tools, layer by layer, reflecting an intuitive dialogue between the artist's inner landscapes and the archetypal forces that emerge through symbolic composition.

Available in three distinct color variations—each capturing a different emotional atmosphere—these limited edition prints invite the viewer to choose the frequency that resonates most deeply. Whether soft and introspective, vibrant and luminous, or earthy and grounded, each version speaks to a unique phase of becoming.

EMBRACING THE POWER OF NATURE AND STONES

Ocean Stones strives to capture the enigmatic essence of stones, their timeless journey shaped by eons of earthly existence. It is a triptych, which can be viewed both together and separately is expressed in two tonal variations, and unveil a profound contemplation: as rocks emerge from the depths of the earth, their ancient structures and experiences forged through millions of years, they bear an immeasurable trove of secrets. Yet, within the gentle caress of water, their transformation resounds most profoundly. In this aqueous embrace, do the stones relinquish or gain? What does it signify to them? Just as oceans and seas become havens where humans sense the harmonious fusion of the physical and emotional realms, where emotions and desires are cleansed and purified, the stones may too undergo an analogous metamorphosis.

Perhaps, as they immerse themselves in the currents, the stones shed their burdens, liberating the excess, and emerge strengthened. Is this the essence they perceive, akin to the catharsis we experience as we surrender to the waters?

These contemplations unfold in artworks, inviting us to ponder the intertwined destinies of stones and water. Within the depths of the layered brushstrokes, a narrative emerges—an intricate dialogue between solidity and fluidity, resilience and surrender. As we immerse ourselves in this exploration, we can see that the stones, in their aquatic communion, may mirror our own transformative journeys. They embody ancient wisdom, revealing that we can find strength and renewal by releasing what no longer serves us.

ETERNITY IN THE SAND

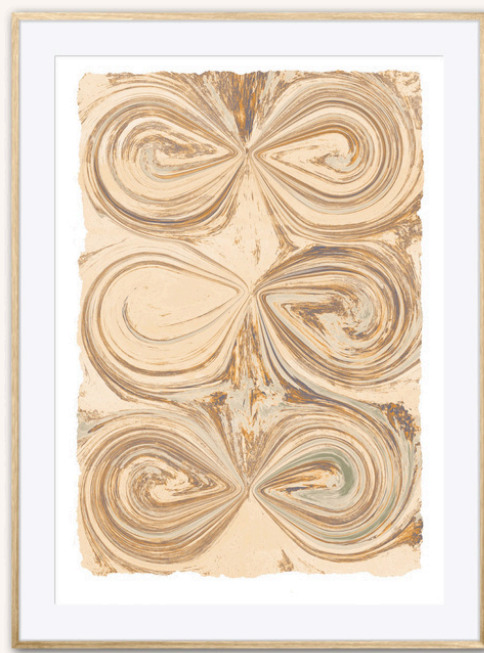

BY INTA LEORA

Each grain of sand holds within it the immeasurable weight of countless millennia, a testament to the enduring wisdom of time itself. It is an eternity encapsulated in minuscule particles, whispering stories of ancient shores and forgotten civilizations. Yet, amidst this grand tapestry of existence, what could be more transient and fleeting than the traces we leave behind in the shifting sands? Footprints, once etched upon the beach, are swiftly erased by the gentle kiss of the waves. Fragile imprints of our passage, carried away by the tides, symbolize the ephemeral nature of our lives. In this juxtaposition of profound wisdom and ethereal fragility, we find a poignant reminder to embrace the present, to make our mark on the world knowing that even the sands of time cannot hold our stories forever.

HEAVE

BY INTA LEORA

The earth, our home and nurturer, is a vast and complex tapestry woven with myriad elements, each playing its part in the grand symphony of life. All these elements are constantly interacting and making dynamic interplay between solidity and fluidity, permanence and change.

The interaction between them creates a powerful metaphor for the cycles of life. In a desert, the presence of a spring can transform a barren landscape into an oasis, teeming with life. Similarly, in human experience, moments of renewal and inspiration can arise unexpectedly, bringing vitality to our otherwise routine existence. This interplay between the solid and the fluid, the constant and the transient, reflects the essence of the earth itself—a dynamic, ever-changing entity that sustains and supports life.

BENEATH THE SURFACE

BY INTA LEORA

In nature, this might mean noticing the delicate ecosystems that sustain life, the silent interdependence that binds all living things. It is in the quiet moments of observation that we begin to appreciate the profound wisdom that nature embodies—the cyclical rhythms of growth, decay, and renewal that mirror our own life journey. In meditation, looking below the surface involves recognizing the ephemeral nature of our thoughts and emotions. It is about understanding that our true essence is not defined by the fleeting content of our minds but by the expansive, boundless awareness that underlies it. This awareness is like the still waters of a deep lake, untouched by the winds that stir its surface.

Both nature and meditation teach us the value of presence. They remind us that true insight and peace are found not in the constant striving and doing, but in the simple act of being—of immersing ourselves fully in the present moment. This presence allows us to engage with the world more deeply, to see beyond appearances, and to connect with the underlying unity that pervades all existence.

BECOMING WHOLE AGAIN

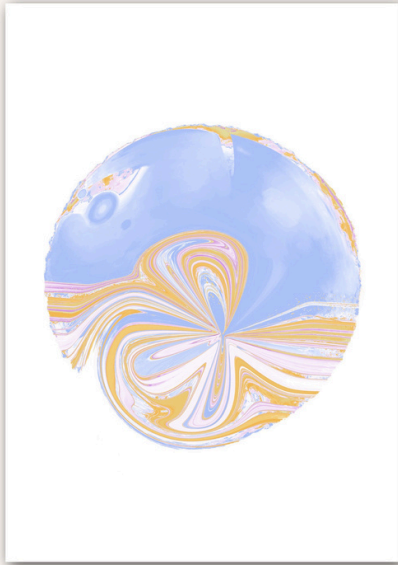

Each individual is akin to an entire planet, continuously undergoing transformative changes. Our surroundings, the information that envelops us, possesses the power to influence and alter our colors. These colors serve as a metaphor for our emotions, feelings, and thoughts, portraying our unique image that can shift with each passing moment. Sometimes, the influx of overwhelming information and experiences that do not align with our true nature can induce profound changes throughout our entire being. However, inherent within us lies a natural equilibrium, a constant renewal that dwells in our core. The more conscious we become, the swifter this restoration occurs. Knowing who we truly are allows us to preserve our authentic colors, effortlessly blending and harmonizing the shades we desire.

Collection "Becoming Whole Again" mirror the intricate dance of human existence, offering a reflection of the delicate interplay between our inner landscapes and the ever-changing external influences. They beckon us to contemplate our inherent resilience and capacity for self-renewal. As we navigate the vast tapestry of life, embracing our true identity becomes the key to preserving our authentic hues while effortlessly blending the vibrant shades that align with our being. Through this artistic journey, we are invited to embrace the transformative power within ourselves, celebrating the kaleidoscope of colors that define our unique and ever-evolving essence.

CONNECTIONS

LIMITED EDITION ART PRINT COLLECTION

Within the realm of creation, ideas ignite as untainted sparks, pure impulses that embody immense potential. Yet, as these ideas take shape and materialize, they undergo a transformative journey, assimilating fragments of our inner selves and the surrounding environment. Each creation emerges as a culmination of diverse factors, wherein even the slightest alteration in the external landscape or the people we encounter can elicit markedly different responses from the same individual. These intricate connections exert profound influence, ultimately shaping the outcome and trajectory of our endeavors.

Within this collection, Inta Leora presents a captivating glimpse into this journey—snapshots extracted from the vast, boundless process of human expression. Delving into the enigmatic nature of decision-making, these pieces of artwork offer a glimpse into the intricate web of connections that shape our paths toward achievement.

Deeply rooted in our inherent pursuit of perfection and unity with the world, the transient nature of such a state is acknowledged. Momentary glimpses of this harmonious fusion exist, teetering between fulfillment and evanescence. Connections I captures this fleeting moment of culmination, portraying its ethereal plenitude alongside its impermanence. It encapsulates the awe-inspiring instance when goals are attained, and everything miraculously falls into place, as if orchestrated by destiny. In this temporal suspension, time halts, and the impossible becomes possible. It represents the long-awaited outcome, a profound conclusion that births the potential for new beginnings.

UNVEILING THE HIDDEN SYMBOLIC MATRIX OF GOAL ATTAINMENT

Within this collection, each piece of artwork, with the exception of No. I, showcases two distinct tonal variations carefully crafted to evoke specific situations. One variation radiates vibrant hues, representing the initial surge of emotions and heightened mental activity that accompany novel experiences. Conversely, the other variation employs subdued tones, symbolizing the necessity of tranquility when confronting and resolving these situations. Similar to human perception, optimal solutions often emerge from a calm mind and stable emotions.

Notably, Connections No. I stands alone in its singular color variation, encapsulating the intensity of a fleeting moment characterized by a delicate balance, preserved within a dynamic framework of highly variable objects. It is an unrepeatable instance, immune to variation or the passage of time, where perception and perspectives remain immutable. Within the confines of a singular moment, devoid of any possibility for variation or temporal shift, lies an immutability that forbids the alteration of perception or the emergence of a different vantage point. To entertain such notions would precipitate its immediate transformation into the subsequent step of the journey. It is clear that this step will come after.

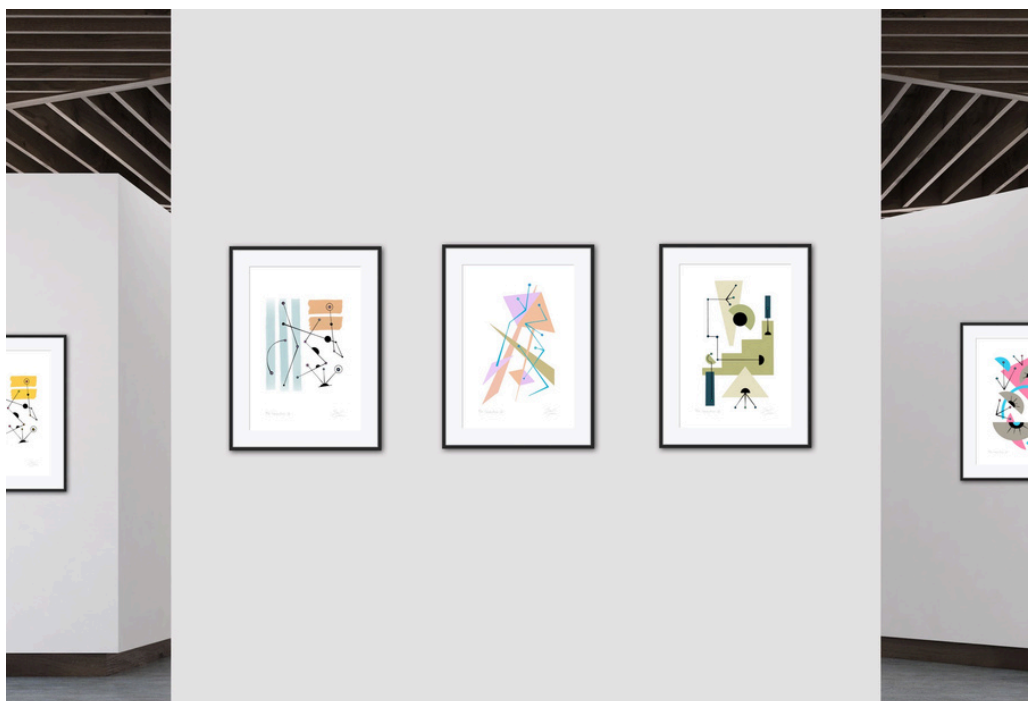

Connections Nos. IX and VIII weave the narrative of purpose's genesis, signifying the inception of the creative process. Emphasizing that creation cannot emerge from nothingness, these pieces of artwork highlight the transformative power of synthesizing divergent elements rather than relying solely on similarities. Surprising and extraordinary outcomes often arise from the fusion of dissimilar entities.

Delving deeper into the exploration of connections, the profound influence of a single glance emerges. The eyes, a profound source of information, convey messages beyond the confines of words. The pivotal role of individuals in our journey toward success becomes evident, necessitating careful selection of companions and discerning when to invite them into our lives.

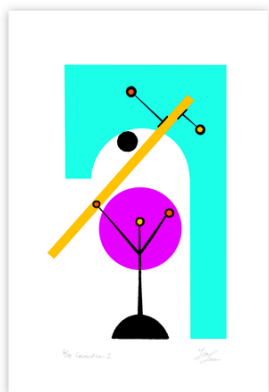

A mere glance possesses the capacity to either forge or shatter genuine connections. In Connections VI and Connections VII, the power to capture any glance resides within your grasp.

Embarking on the path to achievement necessitates active action, courage, and unwavering confidence. Embracing a state of ease and joy enhances performance and wards off stagnation, as exemplified in Connections V and Connections IV.

As we journey toward grander aspirations, we navigate with measured strides, calmly and persistently assessing each connection we encounter. In doing so, we uncover invaluable insights and discover optimal strategies, allowing us to unravel the finest tips and solutions available. It is told by Connections No. II and III

OPEN EDITION PRINTS

ARTFUL ACCESSIBILITY
WITHOUT COMPROMISE

While my limited edition prints emphasize exclusivity and rarity, this collection of open edition prints was created with the same care, intention, and energetic presence. These works remain true to my artistic vision—meticulously hand-drawn using digital tools, rich in symbolism and meaning—yet are offered at a more accessible price point.

I believe that art should have many doorways. These open editions invite you to bring beauty, depth, and a sense of connection into your space, without compromising on quality or soul. Each piece is professionally printed on high-quality archival paper and serves as a visual companion on your own journey of transformation and inner wholeness.

REBIRTH TRIPTYCH

BY INTA LEORA

Inception · Formation · Expansion

Available individually or as a set

Printed in multiple sizes on archival-quality paper

This open edition series explores the eternal cycle of rebirth—on Earth, within ourselves, and in the unseen layers of reality. Each work captures a unique moment within this continuous, universal process: a delicate transformation that unites the physical with the spiritual, the visible with the invisible.

"Inception" evokes the quiet, mysterious beginning—the spark of life, the seed of an idea, or the stirring of a feeling before it finds form.

"Formation" reflects the moment when energy takes shape, when chaos organizes into structure, and the essence begins to manifest.

"Expansion" embodies the unfolding, the blossoming into space—fluid, radiant, and alive with movement.

Although each piece holds its own narrative, together they form a symbolic triptych—a meditation on transformation, growth, and continuity. This visual trilogy speaks not only of human rebirth but also of the reawakening of nature, of thoughts, emotions, and deeper truths that reshape us over and over again.

Offered as open edition prints in a variety of sizes, this series brings symbolic art into everyday spaces—accessible, meaningful, and timeless.

SYMPHONY OF STONES

BY INTA LEORA

Available individually or as a set

Printed in multiple sizes on archival-quality paper

This collection is a visual homage to stones—not as lifeless objects, but as ancient witnesses and keepers of quiet wisdom. Stone Symphony invites us to listen beyond the surface, to tune into the subtle songs that the Earth has been humming for millennia.

Each artwork in this series is inspired by a specific stone or mineral—cherished for its form, color, and silent presence. Through layered digital drawing and symbolic abstraction, these works reveal not only the aesthetic beauty of stones but also the emotional and energetic echoes they carry.

They remind us that stones have seen everything, heard everything, and hold no judgment. Their stillness teaches us about patience. Their endurance speaks of quiet power. Their songs—if we listen—can ground us and gently reorient our inner compass.

This series is available as open edition prints in various sizes, making it accessible to those who wish to bring a piece of grounded beauty and subtle storytelling into their space.

STONE CITY

BY INTA LEORA

Available individually or as a set

Printed in multiple sizes on archival-quality paper

Stone City is a visual reflection on the evolving relationship between people and urban environments. Drawing on two decades of experience in architecture and spatial planning, this collection distills the essence of city life into abstract compositions—structures that echo both external order and inner adaptation.

Each artwork in the triptych represents a different layer of the modern city:

- Stone City I channels the density and geometry of early urban models—organized around central functions and repetitive blocks.
- Stone City II explores a state of personal balance, shaped through purposeful inner structuring amidst external systems.
- Stone City III captures the dynamic networks and transit flows that define contemporary urban life.

These simplified forms are not just geometric—they hold emotional and social memory. While cities offer structure, growth, and energy, they also demand conscious adaptation. Stone City translates this process into visual language: a synthesis of space, logic, and the personal experience of inhabiting complex environments.

Inspired by the lightness of summer days and the playful spirit of celebration, the Cocktail Collection is a visual toast to joy, freshness, and sensory pleasure. Each artwork is named after a beloved cocktail, inviting you into a world where color becomes flavor, and form becomes feeling. Here, citrus slices float like bright thoughts, leaves dance like sunlight, and radiant compositions sparkle with movement. These works are not meant to be analyzed—they are meant to be enjoyed. Like their liquid namesakes, they are crafted to uplift, energize, and bring a burst of delight into your space.

The collection features juicy pairings like Agua de Valencia I and Agua de Valencia II, the refreshing greens of Lemon Cocktail and Lemon Spritz, and the rich berry hues of Sangría and Summer Sangría. Each print celebrates the art of living lightly—through color, mood, and vibrant simplicity.

Offered as open edition prints in a range of sizes, these works are perfect for brightening kitchens, cafés, studios, or any space that could use a splash of sunshine and joy.
